

1. Which of the following is an interaction between two species?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

2. Which of the following is an example of a predator-prey interaction?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

3. Which of the following is an example of a competition interaction?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

4. Which of the following is an example of an mutualism interaction?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

5. Which of the following is an example of an commensalism interaction?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

6. Which of the following is an example of an parasitism interaction?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

7. Which of the following is an interaction between two different species of plants?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

1. Which of the following is an interaction between two species?

- A. A lion eating a zebra
- B. A zebra running from a lion
- C. A zebra grazing on grass

2. Which of the following is an example of a predator-prey interaction?

- A. A lion eating a zebra

3. Which of the following is an example of a competition interaction?

- C. A zebra grazing on grass

4. Which of the following is an example of an mutualism interaction?

B. A zebra running from a lion

5. Which of the following is an example of an commensalism interaction?

A. A lion eating a zebra

6. Which of the following is an example of an parasitism interaction?

C. A zebra grazing on grass

7. Which of the following is an interaction between two different species of plants?

C. A zebra grazing on grass