

1. What is the definition of prosocial behavior?

- A. Helping behavior that is directed towards another individual and is intended to benefit that individual
- B. Helping behavior that is directed towards another individual but is not intended to benefit that individual
- C. Helping behavior that is directed towards oneself
- D. Helping behavior that is directed towards another individual and is intended to benefit both individuals

2. Which of the following is an example of prosocial behavior?

- A. A student studying for an exam
- B. A student cheating on an exam
- C. A student helping another student study for an exam
- D. A student helping another student cheat on an exam

3. Which of the following is NOT an example of prosocial behavior?

- A. A student studying for an exam
- B. A student cheating on an exam
- C. A student helping another student study for an exam
- D. A student helping another student cheat on an exam

4. Why do people engage in prosocial behavior?

- A. To receive a reward
- B. To avoid punishment
- C. To feel good about themselves
- D. All of the above

5. Which of the following is NOT a reason why people engage in prosocial behavior?

- A. To receive a reward
- B. To avoid punishment
- C. To feel good about themselves
- D. None of the above

6. How does prosocial behavior benefit the individual engaging in the behavior?

- A. It makes the individual feel good about themselves
- B. It increases the individual's chances of receiving a reward

- C. It decreases the individual's chances of being punished
 - D. All of the above
7. How does prosocial behavior benefit the recipient of the behavior?
- A. It makes the recipient feel good about themselves
 - B. It increases the recipient's chances of receiving a reward
 - C. It decreases the recipient's chances of being punished
 - D. All of the above
8. What is the ultimate goal of prosocial behavior?
- A. To make the world a better place
 - B. To make the individual feel good about themselves
 - C. To make the recipient feel good about themselves
 - D. All of the above
9. Which of the following is NOT a reason why prosocial behavior is beneficial?
- A. It makes the world a better place
 - B. It makes the individual feel good about themselves
 - C. It makes the recipient feel good about themselves
 - D. None of the above
10. What are the consequences of not engaging in prosocial behavior?
- A. The world will be a worse place
 - B. The individual will feel bad about themselves
 - C. The recipient will feel bad about themselves
 - D. All of the above

Answer Key:

- 1. A
- 2. C
- 3. B
- 4. D
- 5. D
- 6. D

7. D

8. A

9. D

10. D