

1. What is the main advantage of infrared spectroscopy over other spectroscopic techniques?

- A. It is more sensitive than other techniques.
- B. It can be used to study very small samples.
- C. It can be used to study very large samples.
- D. It can be used to study both solid and liquid samples.

Answer: A